

Newsletter # 4 / April 2016

On the 19th of April a group of researchers from SEFIRA Consortium met a delegation of the members of the European Parliament lead by MP Eleonora Evi from the ENVI Committee of the Parliament

You can download here the opening presentation and the SEFIRA results posters (PDF)

Integrating knowledge from the atmospheric and socio-economic sciences

Air quality policies and environmental conflicts

Acceptability of Air Quality Policies

SEFIRA FP7 - final results leaflet

(Design courtesy of ISIA - Urbino)

Photo: The debate hosted by the European Parliament with the MP Eleonora Evi from the ENVI Commission

SEFIRA

SEFIRA IS A EU FP7 COORDINATION ACTION ON
Socio Economic Implications
For Individual Responses to
Air Pollution policies in EU +27

On the 20th of April hosted by the Committee of the Regions, the SEFIRA Project presented the main results of the Project in the Final Conference that was attended by 70 representatives from European Institutions, Regional and Local Governments, Universities, Research Institutes and Civil Society Organizations.

Photo: Scribing Exercise by Marta Fioravanti - ISIA Urbino

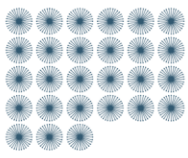

Photo: An international and experienced audience attended the conference

www.sefira-project.eu

SEFIRA

SEFIRA IS A EU FP7 COORDINATION ACTION ON
Socio Economic Implications
For Individual Responses to
Air Pollution policies in EU +27

At the following link you can download the Final Conference Presentations (click to download PDF)

Michela Maione \(Project Coordinator - University of Urbino\) - The Sefira Transdisciplinary Approach

Markus Amann \(IIASA - Wien\) Challenges of air quality management in Europe and the approach taken for the current policy proposal

Marteen Loopmans \(University K.U. Leuven\) Environmental policies and urban ecology: from individual behaviour to political action

Yuri Kazepov \(University of Vienna\) Acceptability of Air Quality Policies: results from the SEFIRA pilot study

Martin Williams \(King's College London\) Air Quality and Climate Change: how to coordinate efforts for a socio-ecological transition

Luigi Pellizzoni \(University of Trieste - External Advisory Board SEFIRA\) An introduction on Environmental Conflicts around Air Quality

Azadeh Marzin \(ADEME - France\) Biomass burning: a burning issue

Christer Ågren \(Airclim - Sweden\) Agri-food impact on air quality

Anna Dworakowska \(Krakow Smog Alert\) The growing civil society movement for air quality improvement in Poland

Roald Wolters \(European Commission - DG Environment\) The governance of conflicts around air quality

The Sefira Project will end on the 31th of May 2016. The results of the pilot research about the attitudes of European citizens toward air quality policies will be published on the next newsletter #5 and on the Sefira website at the section « Deliverables »

Thank you for your interest !

The Project Coordinator

Prof. Michela Maione – University of Urbino

www.sefira-project.eu

